The best season .

I think that spring is the best season. Its definitely the best because its my birthday. Birthdays are great because you get presents and yummy cake. My opinion is that spring is the best season because there are pretty flowers and is awesome and cool.

TY

The best season of the year.

I personally believe that winter is the best season of the year.

Firstly you can have bonfires and cook crispy gooey marshmallows and have a big barbecue and open fire with your loving family.

Secondly rain is fun to play in and it fills our rain water tanks up. Water is precious so save it until summer.

My opinion is that winter is a great time to watch AFL football and cheer for your favorite team. It is obvious that winter is the pick of the bunch. You cant snuggle up with a fire in summer. That is why winter is the best.

Isaac

I am sure winter is the best because you get to snuggle up with toys, pillows and blankets. I love it because you stay so warm. When you have to go outside you need to wear lots of layers but that's no problem. If you need a bed collect lots of pillows and blankets and then set it up, make walls out of pillows as its really cold. It will keep you very warm on cold winter nights. Secondly winter is the best because you can drive to watch the exciting footy and cheer your favorite footy team on. I go for Adelaide Crows because in 2020 they played extremely well. If you would like to play football you can in winter.

Thirdly winter is awesome because you can go speedy skiing or snowboarding. It's so great and fun and it doesn't cost much money at all. You need to go down a hill and when you go down a hill either skiing or snowboarding you go fast.

I strongly believe winter is the best season because you get lots of rain. In winter when its raining you could go outside and watch it, use an umbrella or relax and hear the rain on the roof while going to sleep. I love listening to rain on my roof.

Toby

The best season of the year!

I think summer is the best season because you don't get sick. Its hot and you don't get the cough, flu, runny nose or cold. You can be healthy.

I believe that summer is the best season because you get to have yummy ice cream and ice blocks. Crunch! brain freeze, yummy cola flavor ice blocks.

I personally think that summer is the best season because you can swim at the beach or the ocean. Splash whoosh fun!

It is clear that summer is the greatest season because you don't get sick, you can eat ice cream and you get long holidays. Don't you just love the school holidays?

Bailey

The best season of the year.

It is clear that summer is the best season.

I am sure that summer is the best season because its certainly hot , secondly you don't get cold and you can have ice cream and go in the pool. Thirdly you can get sprayed by a hose.

I am sure that summer is the best season as in summer you get delicious chocolate , vanilla, strawberry and mint ice cream. Freezing ice cream keeps you cool!

It is certain that summer is the greatest season. In summer you get lots of holidays and everybody loves holidays!

Zayden

The best season of the year.

Winter is certainly the best season of the year because you get to play football, get fit and see your best mates.

Secondly winter is definitely the best season because you get to have big bonfires, get nice and warm and roast gooey marshmallows on the coals and cook sausages on a hot plate.

Thirdly winter is the best season because you get rain for different crops and veggies so humans have food.

Finally you get yummy food like my mums hot, steamy, delicious bacon and cauliflower soup and beef stew which are warm and keep you warm.

I am sure winter is the best season because you get to have big warm bonfires. Don't you just love sitting in front of a big bonfire? "Yes I do".

Sizzling Starts

Learning Intention:

Use inference, rather than explicitly stating your case, to create engaging and persuasive introductions.

Sizzling Starts use dialogue, action and sound!

The purpose of a Sizzling Start in a persuasive text is to engage the reader's interest immediately, making them want to read more. Contrary to popular belief, your introduction doesn't have to 'state your case' and outline your three reasons.

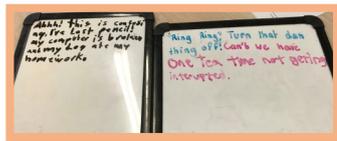

First impressions count! In Persuasive Writing, introductions are the hook to make your reader want to read more; you only have a few sentences to reach out to them and make an impression.

The introduction is your first opportunity to present your argument and persuade the reader. A great Sizzling Start doesn't need to explicitly state your point of view, you can allow the reader to infer meaning.

Using the gradual release method Sizzling Starts were modelled by the teacher on the board. (I do it - Teacher models)

We then worked together in teams. (We do it together)

Then we wrote our Sizzling Starts in two minutes. (You do it alone)

Action Activity

Some examples of the 5-minute topic fast starts we worked on.

- Having neat handwriting is not important anymore.
- Pedestrians should be fined for using mobile phones while crossing the road.
- Social Media is dangerous.
- You learn more when you're having fun.
- Everyone should learn to.....
- Lunchtime is too short.
- I should get more pocket money.
- What makes a good friend?

Can you infer the meaning of our Sizzling Starts?

"Teachers!" you should make Learning fun or otherwise kids will not want to learn anymore. Just a reminder that you may lose your job if that happens.

"Brrrrrrrrrr!" Gezzz lunchtime is too short it seems like one millisecond. Teachers we want more playtime.

"School tomorrow honey."

"Awwwww come on can't I have one more day off?" I don't know why school is six hours every day for five days.

"Why can't we have a two-day week and a five day weekend?"

Teachers should make Learning fun because if it is boring kids don't want to learn. But when teachers make Learning fun then everyone wants to learn, and children will get smarter.

Everyone should learn to cook so you don't spend money on already prepared food. The food you cook for yourself is always healthy.

Each of these examples were written in two minutes!
